

McCarthy Censure Debate To End Today

Voting Will Start Late In Afternoon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The last full day of debate in the McCarthy censure row ended Tuesday night with impassioned pleas and counter-appeals in an all but empty Senate chamber.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) rang down the curtain with a declaration that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) must be rebuked because "the tactics he has used are destructive of the very institutions of free government."

Lehman spoke after Sen. Mundt (R-SD) taking the opposite side, declared it would be a great day for the worldwide Communist propaganda mill if censure is voted for McCarthy. He said a censure vote would be viewed as a retreat in this country's fight against subversion.

There'll be a few more speeches Wednesday. Then, by unanimous consent, this special session of the Senate will start voting late in the afternoon on the question of whether or not to reprimand the junior senator from Wisconsin on charges of unbecoming conduct and contempt of the Senate.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said he expected the whole censure issue to be settled Thursday night. The extraordinary session then can end, he said, apart for possible later action on a few non-controversial nominations or other matters.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark, drew Tuesday's biggest audience of senators and spectators with a speech accusing McCarthy of starting a "prairie fire" of fear and hatred which, he said, not even McCarthy may be able to put out.

He read aloud from a stack of letters from McCarthy supporters—reflecting, he said, race and religious bitterness, "unadulterated hatred, vituperation and abuse."

Mundt then called for rejection of the McCarthy censure resolution, asking the Senate instead to change its rules and adopt a code of personal conduct ruling out such behavior as McCarthy's foes are complaining.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) took the floor briefly in defense of his amendment which would censure McCarthy for attacks on the Watkins committee—the body which originally recommended censure on two other grounds.

S. Africa's New Minister Strong On Segregation

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's governing Nationalist party Tuesday picked as new prime minister a man whose goal is to make the country a republic. He also wants the government to make an even sterner policy on racial segregation than it has now and to abandon use of the English language.

A party caucus named Lands Minister Johannes Gerhardus Strijdom, 61, who uses only the Afrikaans tongue in public and is known as the "Lion of the Transvaal," to succeed retiring Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan as Nationalist leader.

With the resignation of Malan effective at midnight, Gov. Gen. E. G. Jansen called on Strijdom to form a new government.

Strijdom has never yet said whether he wants to make South Africa a republic within the British commonwealth of nations or take it out of the commonwealth. The new prime minister favors even stronger measures than Malan to implement the Nationalists' uncompromising policy of racial segregation and white supremacy.

CROCHETING CHAMP IS A MAN
NEW YORK (AP)—A Portland, Ore., letter carrier Tuesday won his third crocheting championship.

Anthony White, 53, was declared 1954's top male with the hooked needle by the National Needlecraft Bureau. His entry this year was a tablecloth.

His handiwork won him the same honor in 1950 and 1952.

White says he took up crocheting 16 years ago. He's kept at it, he says, because it's a relaxing hobby and a cure for his ulcers.

Janice Hullinger, 16, of Manly, Iowa, wins the steer grand championship at the International Live Stock Exposition, with "Shorty," a 1,080-pound Aberdeen-Angus summer yearling.

Two Iowa Farm Girls Win Top Cattle Honors

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Iowa farm girls beat out more than 800 adult competitors to win the International Live Stock Exposition's most coveted awards Tuesday.

Tiny Janice Hullinger, 16, of Manly, won the steer grand championship—high point of the show—with "Shorty," a 1,080-pound Aberdeen-Angus summer yearling. The reserve grand champion, a summer yearling shorthorn, was shown by Barbara Clause, 15, of Spencer.

Selection of the two girls for top cattle honors set a precedent for the International. It was the first time in the 55-year-old history of the show that girls won the steer championship and reserve championship of the junior feeding contest and then went on to share grand championship honors.

Church Council In Dispute Over Headquarters Site

BOSTON (AP)—A long simmering dispute over locating headquarters of the National Council of Churches in New York City—or the Midwest—boiled over Tuesday, with the nod going to New York.

But a new showdown was predicted later.

Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert, a Chicago Congregationalist, said the plan to establish the headquarters in New York "caused a shiver of dismay and apprehension among the Christian people who live west of the Alleghenies."

"The decision suffers from a kind of nearsightedness," he said.

Peppery debate broke out on the floor of the council's biennial General Assembly when a special committee reported on action of the council's interim General Board in picking the New York location.

Site of the huge permanent center, embracing a network of 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 35½ million members throughout the country, has been a seething issue in the council for several years.

Noted Orchestra Conductor Dies In Germany

BADEN BADEN, Germany (AP)—Wilhelm Furtwaengler, 68, noted German orchestra conductor whose independence caused him trouble with both the Nazis and anti-Nazis, died of pneumonia Tuesday night.

Death came as plans were pending to send him and his 110-member Berlin Symphony Orchestra next year to the United States, a country where he had not always been welcome because of the honors the Nazis heaped on him.

Furtwaengler was regarded as one of the world's greatest interpreters of Beethoven's symphonies. He won equal acclaim for his interpretation of symphonic and orchestral compositions. In 1926 and 1927 he shared the direction of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra with Arturo Toscanini.

His political troubles started when the Nazis attained power in Germany in 1933. They demanded that he purge his Berlin Orchestra of its Jewish musicians, but he refused.

Tiggelman thinks the brightly-painted cars would deter potential traffic violators.

Wolfson Outlines Plans For Ward's If He Ousts Avery

CHICAGO (AP)—Louis Wolfson breezed into Chicago Tuesday with a Florida sun tan and a plan which he said would revitalize Montgomery Ward & Co.

Before he can put his plan into operation, the 43-year-old Wolfson must give the boot to Sewell Avery, the 81-year-old chairman at Ward's annual stockholders meeting April 22. Wolfson expressed confidence in his ability to accomplish this feat.

Avery, who insists the condition of Ward's is "perfect," has said he'll resist Wolfson's challenge. Avery has dubbed Wolfson and his group a "raiding party" trying to get hold of Ward's "liquid assets," which are plentiful.

Wolfson's plan for Ward's, placed before the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago, included these points:

1. Form a new company to take over the physical assets of Ward's. Stock in this company would be issued to present Ward stockholders.
2. Increase the presently authorized stock of Ward's from 10 to 30 million shares, effecting a 3-for-1 split of the outstanding stock.
3. Bring in a new staff of top executives. Wolfson said he had "a top merchandising man" who had agreed to become president.
4. Start building approximately 24 stores within the first year after he assumed control.
5. Establish a profit sharing bonus plan to instill confidence and incentive among Ward's employees.

Meteorite Crashes Into House, Injures Alabama Woman

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP)—A meteorite crashed through the roof of a house Tuesday and slightly injured Mrs. Hewlett Hodges, 32.

George Swindle, field representative of the U. S. Geological Survey, identified it as a sulphide meteorite. He said it was about six inches in diameter.

A mysterious explosion in the Sylacauga area, about 55 miles southeast of Birmingham, set off a three-state search Tuesday in which 35 or 40 planes took part.

The explosion was seen as far south as Phenix City, on the Alabama-Georgia border.

Dr. Walter B. Jones, Alabama state geologist, said evidently a meteor exploded in southeast Alabama, and Mrs. Hodges was hurt by a particle of it.

Mrs. Hodges said she was lying on a couch in the living room of the frame house when the meteorite smashed a three-foot wide hole in the roof and tumbled through the ceiling.

"It hit our radio at one end of the couch and bounced off on me. It hit me on the arm and hip," she said.

Police summoned a doctor when they arrived and Mrs. Hodges was treated for bruises.

FEWER PSYCHIATRIC CASES AMONG KOREAN VETS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Psychiatric illnesses suffered by Korean War veterans were fewer but appear to be "more serious" than those of World War II men, Dr. Harvey J. Tompkins reported Tuesday.

Dr. Tompkins, chief psychiatrist for the Veterans Administration, offered no theories as to the reason, but said this suggestion arises from observation of Korean veterans seeking treatment. The average hospital stay is longer for the Korean men, he told the Assn. of Military Surgeons of the United States.

Expert Testifies Wife's Blood Found On Sheppard's Watch

CLEVELAND (AP)—A blue-eyed woman who is a test tube wizard testified Tuesday that blood like Marilyn Sheppard's was caked on her husband's wrist watch after her murder.

But the expert, Mary Cowan, for nearly 16 years a medical technician in the county corner's office, said there were no fingerprints to be found on the watch or other articles of Dr. Samuel Sheppard's personal jewelry—a signet ring and a key chain.

Testifying at Sheppard's first degree murder trial, Miss Cowan also said a green cloth bag in which the articles were later found in the osteopath's front yard bore no bloodstains.

Thus, she left the implication that the watch, ring and chain were placed in the bag after the blood had time to dry—a matter of 15 to 20 minutes.

Sheppard's defense includes a claim that a prowler stole the jewelry during a murderous foray into his home July 4, then abandoned it as the handsome osteopath pursued him from the house.

Wilson To Ask For 4-Year Extension Of Draft Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said Tuesday he will ask the next Congress for a four-year extension of the draft law, including a provision for short-term draftees to build up the reserve forces.

He told a news conference that a pay boost for military personnel and an overhaul of the general military manpower program will be other parts of a legislative program designed, he said, to strengthen the morale and effectiveness of both active and reserve forces.

He also predicted military spending during the year starting next July 1 will be about 35 billion dollars, and the Defense Department's request for new funds will be somewhere between 29½ and 34½ billion dollars. Funds appropriated for the present year total about 29½ billion.

Wilson estimated the pay raise, which would range from 3 to 5 percent of current scales—with possibly greater increases for some key categories—would cost up to 600 million dollars yearly.

He also told a news conference that the military manpower program which would spell out the long awaited military reserve system, is being given its finishing touches and probably will be included in the President's State of the Union message to Congress in January.

Prosecutor Intends To Punish Parents Of Delinquents

CHICAGO (AP)—A prosecutor said Tuesday he intends to punish the parents of delinquent boys and girls.

State's Atty. John G. Gurnea told the Chicago Youth Commission he plans to seek cooperation of Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor in arresting and prosecuting mothers and fathers of youthful violators of Chicago's curfew.

He suggested that 10 of his staff prosecutors be assigned to police stations in districts where police would concentrate on picking up youngsters of 16 or less found on streets after curfew. The curfew ordinance applies to this age group.

The curfew hour is 10:30 p.m. except Friday and Saturday night when it is 11:30.

Youngsters picked up would be interviewed together with their parents.

"If the parents are found responsible, they will be taken to court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of their children," Gurnea said. The campaign would be aimed especially at juvenile gangs.

"For the cruel boys, mollycoddling has got to stop," he said. "Parents who don't discipline their children will end up in court. The basic problem is failure of parents to demand respect and to teach self-discipline."

OFFICIAL PORTRAIT—This is the portrait of British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill which was painted by Graham Sutherland. The painting was presented to the statesman on his 80th birthday by past and present members of the Houses of Parliament. The artist says he suspects the Prime Minister—a noted amateur painter himself—of adding a dab or two of paint on the canvas between sittings.

England Pays Tribute To 'Grand Old Man' On 80th Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 80th birthday Tuesday with a tear and a smile—and may have had some immediate intention of retiring. He said, in fact, "I hope I still have some services to render."

A surge of emotion swept Britain in tributes to the Prime Minister—even overshadowing the royal pageantry accompanying Queen Elizabeth's opening of a new session of Parliament which, by coincidence, fell on the same day.

And friends overseas, even some east of the Iron Curtain, poured in money for a birthday fund which officials said may well top two million dollars. Presented a check for 150,000 pounds ($420,000) as "a token on account," he announced the money will be used to found the "Winston Churchill Birthday Trust" for museum and charitable purposes.

For the Old Man, who has gained many of the world's greatest honors, the day was "the most memorable occasion of my public life."

Everywhere Churchill went on his birthday rounds he was greeted by cheering crowds of various political feelings—many as visibly moved as himself.

At times the Churchill of the glib tongue was so overcome as to be almost speechless. Then he acknowledged well wishes only with a warm "Thank you, thank you, thank you."

Among his colleagues in Parliament, where he has served 52 years, Churchill confessed "I am overwhelmed by two emotions—pride and humility—and I can't tell which dominates."

The legendary Churchill impishness, however, was too much for him to suppress.

After being presented a portrait of himself and a book signed by most of the members of Parliament, he quipped:

"I must confess that this ceremony, with all its charm and splendor, may well be found to have seriously affected my controversial value as a party politician."

He paused for laughter, then (Continued on Page Seven)

WEATHER FORECAST FOR NEXT 30 DAYS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau Tuesday predicted temperatures will be above normal during December in the eastern half of the country. It said the greatest departure from normal would be in the Great Lakes area.

Below normal temperatures are expected in the western half of the country with the coldest weather in the Northwest, the bureau added in a 30-day outlook which also said:

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal in most of the country except for subnormal amounts in the extreme Southeast, Pacific Northwest, and Rio Grande Valley."

Feels This Constitutes War Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader called again Tuesday for a blockade of Red China to force the release of American prisoners there, but the White House said President Eisenhower feels this would be "war action."

Eisenhower thus lined up solidly with Secretary of State Dulles against the proposal of Sen. Knowland of California.

In a major speech at Chicago Monday night, Dulles said the United States had agreed under the United Nations charter to try to settle international disputes in a manner which would not endanger world peace.

"Therefore," Dulles said, "our first duty is to exhaust peaceful means of sustaining our international rights and those of our citizens, rather than now resorting to war action such as a naval and air blockade of Red China."

A strong American protest against the imprisonment of 11 U. S. airmen and two civilians as "spies" has just been rejected by Red Chinese representatives in Geneva, Switzerland, the only point of direct diplomatic contact with the Peiping regime.

Knowland said there may be some other "effective alternative" to the blockade he advocates.

"If it is effective, it will have my full support," he added. "But personally, I don't believe either the Congress or the country will remain complacent month in and month out while Americans are in Communist jails."

Interviewed on a television program, the Senate leader argued that a blockade of the Chinese coast would make things "so expensive" for the Communists that they would be forced to release the 13 Americans, whose prison sentences were announced last week, and a number of other U. S. citizens also being held.

The White House view of the situation was reported by James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary. News men asked him whether the President agreed with Dulles that a blockade would amount to war action.

"Yes," Hagerty replied. He went on to say that Eisenhower "approved completely" of the secretary of state's speech.

Dulles had said "our nation will react, and react vigorously, but without allowing ourselves to be provoked into action which would be a violation of our international obligations."

13 Japanese Pilots Graduate Into New U.S.-Style Air Force

CAMP MATSUSHIMA, Japan, (Wednesday) (AP)—Thirteen Japanese World War II pilots, including one who was in on the Pearl Harbor attack, were graduated Tuesday into the new U. S.-style air force.

Japanese and U. S. officials disclosed at the air school's graduation ceremonies that Japan's new air force next June will activate three 25-plane squadrons of Sabres supplied by the United States.

Among the graduates of the five-month refresher course was Lt. Col. Masanobu Ibuski, who flew a navy plane in the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Until next June, when Sabres become available, the 13 graduates will be busy brushing up on transport flying and learning to teach other Japanese; former pilots will complete the course before the school enrolls cadets who have never flown.

MANTLE OF GREATNESS FITS

Upon few men does the mantle of greatness fit so snugly that their fellows see in their lifetime how suitable it is. But, beyond all doubt, such a man is Winston Churchill.

All free men can rejoice that their doughty champion has now attained the age of 80 years. It is good for the world when greatness endures.

Sir Winston has done more than surpass his Biblical three score and ten. He has made the last two decades of his life the most fruitful, the most triumphant of all. He has climbed mountains whose peaks younger men could not even see.

As long as free civilization exists upon this earth, the tale will be told of this man and his works.

People will hear of his unexampled brilliance of mind, of his inventive, imaginative statesmanship, his raw animal courage, his furious energy, his amazing breadth of interest.

They will hear how he cried out vainly but persistently against the political follies committed by free men in his own Britain and elsewhere in the bewildered era of false safety after World War I.

They will hear how he alone, by force of eloquence, by transmission to others of his unquenchable spirit, lifted his countrymen to unbelievable heights of resistance against the German colossus astride the European continent in World War II.

And they will hear how he brushed off the ashes of political defeat to bring his country out of the postwar economic doldrums and to go searching for lasting peace in a world made treacherously unsafe by a mixture of communism and atomic energy.

Not even the ravages of paralytic strokes upon his aging frame could turn him away from his quest or persuade him to lay down the burden of British leadership. He struggles on, still hopeful that his flickering energies may light the spark of real peace.

This final prize may elude him. But even if it does, history surely will say that Sir Winston Churchill sought peace as earnestly as he prosecuted war. History will honor him for his unflagging effort in mankind's behalf.

The last lines of his story are not yet written. Who can say that, as he battles along, peering with dimmed vision toward his cherished goal, this old man will not raise new monuments to his greatness, will not give free men fresh cause to be thankful they have him striving for their betterment?

So long as he draws a breath, the world may somehow gain from it.

A BITTER LESSON

We heard of an instance the other day where a state auditor charged that a certain county official had embezzled $8000 over a period of several years. What makes it astonishing is that the same official had many years earlier been found guilty of embezzling county funds by a jury, but had been subsequently returned to office five more times.

To be sure, the judge and then the Supreme Court of the state had set aside the verdict of guilty, on the ground that absence of certain vital testimony created a reasonable doubt. But the voters seemed all too ready to seize upon that "doubt."

Now they have learned a bitter lesson. And it is one many American voters could well heed. We have had altogether too many instances in this country of electing men to public office who either have criminal taint on their records or are actually in jail when chosen.

And the notion, often advanced for lesser offenses than crimes, that voter endorsement somehow absolves a man of wrongdoing is a quaint one which ought to go into the discard for good.

Steamed Pudding Makes a Perfect Christmas Dessert

Let's keep Christmas dinner free of extravagance. Too many other wonderful things to do—opening presents, exchanging greetings, admiring the tree. This handsome steamed pudding, using a prepared pudding to begin with, is a delicious answer. We think you'll agree.

Steamed Pudding Royale
(Makes 6-8 servings)
One cup sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup shortening, 1 package vanilla pudding, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup finely chopped fruit, 2 3/4 cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, then add egg. Gradually add pudding and cream again. Add egg and beat well. Stir in fruit. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Beat until smooth after each addition. Pour into a well-greased 1-quart mold. Cover securely.

Place the mold on a rack in steamer containing about 1 inch of water. A deep, covered kettle with a rack in bottom may be used in place of a steamer. Cover. Use high heat until water boils, then reduce to low so that steam is steady but not too hot. Replenish water when necessary. Steam pudding for 1 1/2 hours. Remove mold from steamer, let stand a few minutes before unmolding pudding. Serve hot with velvety lemon sauce.

Velvety Lemon Sauce
One egg, 1 cup extra-fine sugar, 1/4 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup heavy cream.
Beat eggs until light. Gradually add sugar beating until well blended. Beat in lemon juice. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream into lemon-sugar mixture. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with steamed pudding royale.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pan-broiled top sirloin steak, stuffed baked potatoes, buttered carrots with parsley, soft rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce salad, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

World's largest man-made harbor is at San Pedro, Calif.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When you have a new baby in the house, the veteran parents among your friends are always warning:

"Yes, they're wonderful when they're helpless and completely dependent on you. But wait until they learn to walk. Then you'll never know a moment's peace. They just become little terrors."

Well, Tracy Ann, who came to our house to live when she was five weeks old, has now passed her 17-month birthday. She walks and climbs like crazy, trying each hour to explore and absorb all the wonders and knowledge in the whole world. And while life with her is admittedly less peaceful, it grows more wonderful each passing golden day.

Nothing makes a grownup appreciate the commonplace miracles of our daily lives—miracles to which times has dulled us—than to watch a child discover them one by one.

Take a simple thing like shadows, for example. The morning Tracy discovered she could wave her hands in the bright sunlight and make moving shadows on the wall she went wild with excitement.

Her actual vocabulary consists of four words—mama, dada, papa, and no. Some parents lament that a child is impossible in the "No" stage, but I just think it's funny. To take her mind off this word, I keep asking her if she can't say something really important like "Mississippi."

The other morning, sneaking into her room to kiss her goodby, I found her sitting up sleepily in bed saying, "No! No! Pizza pie! No! Pizza pie!"

—And, I stood there for a moment until it dawned on me that she is slipping up on "Mississippi" by way of "pizza pie."

Somewhere in America there is a runny-nosed, dirty-cheeked little boy growing up. I wonder what kind of a man he will be. For here I am spending the best years of my life training a perfect little wife for him. I hope the scoundrel, whoever he is, will have the common decency to come to me 20 years or so from now and say, "thanks, dad."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The small fry may cry in their corn flakes when they learn this but Wild Bill Hickok is making a movie in which he helps raid a gambling house and does some torrid smooching with a blonde.

As any juvenile within range of a TV set knows, Wild Bill is young Guy Madison. He is currently starring in a movie called "Five Against the House." It's a modern story about five college students who rob Harold's Club in Reno.

When I heard about the plot, I mused over to Columbia Studios and found Madison looking almost naked without his boots, chaps and stetson. He wore slacks and a fancy-deuce pink shirt.

He hastily explained that he plays an unwilling accomplice in the Reno rustling, being forced to go through with it at the point of a gun.

"I don't think the effect will be too bad," he opined. "A gun is shown only once, and then sketchily. The job is pulled off by psychology—the psychology of fear. It is very well planned—so much so that Harold's has changed its policy of handling money in order to forestall such a job."

"In the end I give the money back to the cops and it's all square between them and me."

But the smooching may raise some eyebrows. It used to be that a movie cowpoke could kiss his horse but didn't dare daily with the opposite sex. In his TV role, Madison is never allowed any romance.

Further and Further Away From Civilization

No One Climate Is Answer For All Sinus Sufferers

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

There is practically no one who feels more miserable and run down than the victim of chronic sinusitis. This affliction, however, has been attacked in many different ways. Sometimes the symptoms can be relieved simply by opening the outlet into the nose in order to allow the pus and mucus to escape. Injecting some substance or using packs which will cause the swelling and inflamed mucous membrane to shrink often helps. For this purpose several drugs are available.

When the sinuses have become chronically inflamed, different methods are often needed. Washing out the sinus through a needle or tube with various kinds of solutions is also used.

In recent years, some of the sulfa drugs and penicillin have been used in solution or powder form. Not all of the sinuses can be treated in this way, but two of the most important—the maxillary and the frontal—can be, and occasionally some of the others. Although not always successful, especially if the sinuses have been chronically inflamed for a long time, irrigation is still one of the most valuable methods of treatment now available.

Recently Mr. Y, among others, has written to ask about climate. "Does climate, in your opinion, have anything to do in justifying this condition or is it just an infection which the climate does not affect one way or the other? Is it possible to dry up this condition in an extremely dry climate such as a found in the desert or is this another half-truth?"

This is a difficult question to answer. It is said that in theory the best climate for a person with sinusitis would be one in which there is little change in temperature between day and night and in which the air is neither too dry or too moist. These conditions are approached perhaps in certain parts of Southern California or Florida, but the hard facts of the matter are that many of those troubled with sinusitis go to such regions hoping to get well and actually have more trouble than before. In some cases, however, improvement does take place.

The dry climate of certain parts of Arizona has brought relief to some sinusitis sufferers but again others almost undoubtedly have been made worse. Recently the Chamber of Commerce in McAllen, Texas in the lower Rio Grande Valley has written to say that many people who went to that region have obtained much relief.

It seems entirely clear that no one climate is the answer for all sufferers from sinusitis. On the other hand if the sinus difficulty is so severe that change of climate must be considered since other measures have failed, it would seem to be wisest to take a long vacation in one spot or another which one thinks might lead to relief before deciding to make a permanent move.

BARBS

BY HAL COCHRAN

The fellow who knows how to pick out only the right habits has a pretty good in on the secret of success.

Husbands who stay home too much and those who stay out too much irritate wives to about the same degree.

With all the things they have to do around the home, how do women ever get to the last word that husbands always say they have?

All of your friends can solve your problems, but have you noticed how few of them get the right answers?

If a place is homelike, there's real truth in the saying "There's no place like home."

A pound of phosphorus will tip a million things that kids never should play with—matches!

A henpecked husband is the fellow who gets to turn to the TV station he wants any time after his wife has retired.

Talk really isn't cheap when just saying "I do" costs a man at least half of everything he has.

Looks to some degree, are determined by diet, says a doctor. We know some folks who have been eating prunes.

Next question: PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three adjoining posters in a Philadelphia Transportation Co. bus urged riders to contribute to different fund-raising drives. Next to them was an advertisement of a Philadelphia bank asking "Need money?"

Dems Face Two Problems—New Chairman, Loyalty Oath

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Democratic National Committee has another big problem on its hands in addition to the election of a new chairman to succeed retiring Stephen A. Mitchell. It is the committee's principal business before its big meeting at New Orleans, Dec. 4.

This is to find a solution for the troublesome party loyalty oath question which darn near wrecked the national convention at Chicago in 1952.

Electing the new national chairman from nearly a dozen candidates now being proposed by various factions will get most of the headlines. But this loyalty oath question is no less important because it looks ahead to writing rules for the Democratic national convention of 1956.

A big rules subcommittee headed by Steve Mitchell himself has been studying this problem, off and on, ever since '52. On the committee are governors, senators, representatives, delegates to the last convention and other party leaders who are not all members of the National Committee. The idea was to get broad representation from every faction and every section of the country, so no one could complain about whatever decision was reached.

If a solution is not found at the New Orleans meeting, it is expected that the committee will be instructed to work on the problem some more. And it is possible that Mr. Mitchell will be asked to stay on as chairman of this committee until a new formula is found.

The way the rule reads now, every state delegation seated at a national convention is required to promise that it will "exert every honorable means" to get the names of the party's presidential and vice presidential nominees on its state's Democratic ballots.

The purpose of this rule, worked out by the National Committee prior to the opening of the 1952 Chicago convention, was to prevent a bolt of Southern Democrats. In the 1948 election, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina had refused to support the Truman-Barkley ticket.

They threw their 38 electoral votes to the Dixiecrat J. Strom Thurmond, instead. Truman won the election in spite of this desertion, but the Democratic leaders naturally wanted to avoid a repetition.

It was the late Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan who was chosen to introduce the resolution calling for the loyalty oath. It started one of the most dramatic fights of any convention.

South Carolina, Virginia and Louisiana delegations refused to accept the rule.

Ruth Millett
Wife Makes a Mistake When She Lets Appearance Slip

She is 42 and her husband is 44. He highly disapproves of her wearing make-up, and so she doesn't wear any.

He thinks it is foolish for a woman to slavishly follow fashion, and so she buys serviceable clothes and wears them until they are worn out.

But here's the rub: During the last two or three years he has "started to go out with him."

She wonders now if she has made a mistake to shun make-up and buy clothes because they are practical rather than because they are becoming and fashion-wise.

Of course, she has made a mistake. Not one woman in ten thousand is beautiful enough "as is" to compete in a world where other women help nature along in every possible way.

SELECT BECOMING WARDROBE
Nor can a woman who chooses her clothes for their durability expect to look very attractive when measured by women who ask one question of the clothes they buy: "What does it do for ME?"

Take a woman who can't depend on make-up and beauty. Her husband openly admires the woman who has made the most of herself, and you've got a woman sadly in need of a bit.

And the kind of build-up she needs is not to have her husband tell her how thankful he is that she is so sensible.

What she needs is the lift she will get from a new permanent, a bright lipstick, at least half a dozen jars of sweet-smelling perfume and lotions and a complete new outfit from high-heeled shoes to perky hat.

That'll take Papa's eyes off other women.

Manners Make Friends

It's courteous to say "I'm glad you called" to a friend who telephones just to chat for a few minutes. You can't go wrong if you just treat the telephone caller with the enthusiastic pleasure you would welcome a visitor to your home.

Telephone wires can carry warmth as well as sound.

LOCAL PENNEY'S STORE TO SHARE IN BONUS PAY

NEW YORK CITY—J. C. Penney Company, nation-wide department store organization, announced today that its directors have authorized a special year-end payment for more than 50,000 associates in the company's 1,639 stores, offices and warehouses throughout the United States.

The payments will be an amount equal to two weeks' pay for all full-time associates who have been employed for the full year 1954, and proportionate amounts for extra and part-time associates and those employed less than a year.

All Penney associates will share in the payment except management staff members whose earnings are determined largely by the company's long-standing profit-sharing plan.
It will be made Dec. 15.

In a letter to the firm's associates,
A. W. Hughes, president, said the payment was based upon the company's results for 1954. "We are particularly happy to be able to make this payment as a result of which has been accomplished this past year," he said. "The possibility of future payments of course will continue to depend upon year to year results."

The payment is in addition to regular company provisions for associates' benefits, including Sick Benefit, Gratuitous Death and Dis-memberment benefit, Thrift and Profit-Sharing Retirement Fund plans, discounts on Company purchases and others.

COMMENTS on THINGS & STUFF

Give a door for Christmas? What is glamorous or "Christmasy" about a combination screen and storm door?

Good questions, these: but brother, let us tell you that several good husbands have placed orders with us for Rusco, all-steel combination screen and storm doors, complete with grille and initial.

A Rusco door will not warp; it operates with fingertip control for all weather conditions, and a beautiful Rusco door will really dress up the house.

However, let us not give all the credit to the husbands. A couple of wives have ordered Rusco doors from us too. (Probably saved for them out of the "teapot" money.) We are not sure, but we have an idea these wives became tired of hearing their husbands language when attempting to fit and re-fit a pesky wood door at every change in the weather.
Hubby will appreciate the Rusco door, too, for who wouldn't be happy about being relieved from such an annoying chore?

December 11th will be the last call for Christmas installation so we suggest you place your order immediately. Phone us at 2450 and we will come out and take the measurements, with no obligation to you, of course.

Wallpaper Company—220 West

Post Commander Speaks To War Dads, Auxiliary

Benefits for the Veteran and his or her family, was the topic
the American War Dads chapter 28 and Auxiliary heard Edward Brennan speak on at the associations regular meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 23, at the American Legion home.

Legion Post 279 Commander
Brennan, who is also commander of the Illinois division three, told the group that veteran security dated back to the fall of 1914 and in June of 1917 death and disability benefits were granted World War
One veterans.

Brennan spoke of the Legion working for all veterans of any war since the first world wide conflict in 1914. He stressed that all veterans should have their honorable discharge registered and also make sure their army insurance records are available at all time and keep up the payments annually because of the valuable protection received for such a small premium.

The speaker also mentioned the bills being presented to the 84th congress and those worthy of the support of all. Following the program refreshments were served.

During the business session of the Auxiliary a letter of greeting was read from the state president, Mrs. March of Alton. Donations were made to the Morgan county community chest, TB Christmas meal fund. Announcement was made there will be a party on Dec. 7, Pearl Harbor Day, for 70
veterans at the Jacksonville State Hospital. There will be a Christmas party sometime during the month of December for the Gold Star children of Morgan county.
Auxiliary chairman for the party.
There will be a council meeting for the State on Dec. 5 at the Abraham Lincoln hotel in Springfield.

Band Students In Unit 27 Will Present Concerts

Members of the school unit 27 band composed of students from the Arenzville, Chapin and Concord areas, will present two holiday concerts. Their director, James E.
Brewster, announces the dates for Sunday, December 5, at the Chapin high school at 2:30 in the afternoon and the second on Sunday, Dec. 12, at the Arenzville high school, also at 2:30 in the afternoon.

There is no admission but those that care to may donate after the concerts to a fund for the newly organized Band Boosters club which is endeavoring to assist in the band's many needs. The Band Boosters will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at the Concord grade school. This will be the second meeting since the organization formed.

The program for the two concerts is identical and includes the following: National Anthem, "Star Spangled Banner," "The Booster
March" by J. G. Klein; "White Christmas" by Irving Berlin with arrangement by Leiden; themes from "The Nutcracker Suite," Ta-chikowsky, arranged by Johnson;
"The Christmas Song" arranged by Yoder; "Brass Triumphant," a march by G. E. Holmes; "Sleigh Ride," by LeRoy Anderson; "Home for Christmas" by Morton Gould;
"Winter Wonderland" arranged by Dave Bennett; "His Honor," a march by H. Fillmore and the concluding number, "Hallelujah Chorus," from "The Messiah" by George Frederick Handel and arranged by Chiapparelli.

Not only those living in the immediate area where the concerts are to be presented but everyone is cordially invited to attend this Christmas concert presented by these students.

Roodhouse Mothers Form A Football Mothers Club

ROODHOUSE — Both football squads, the "Railroaders," were entertained Friday night at a banquet prepared and served by their mothers at the school cafeteria dining room. Guests included coach Charles Martin, assistant coach Russell Jester, athletic director Mason F. Campbell, superintendent Charles C. Barlow, Bill Locher, Jerry Hagen, and Lewis Johnson.

Centering the banquet table was an engine in miniature and place cards bore the baby picture of each player. The annual dinner was served to fifty-seven students and adults.

Jerry Hagen, father of one of the boys, served as toastmaster, and welcomed the group. He was assisted by Lewis Johnson, loyal fan, who entertained those present with appropriate remarks. Echoes from the log-house were presented by Jester much to the amusement and embarrassment of the guests of honor.

The menu consisted of ham, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, rice, apples, cabbage salad, and apple and cherry pie.

Co-chairmen for the banquet were Mrs. Paul Ballard and Mrs. James Hawk. In charge of the table decorations were Mrs. Charles A. Sprague and Mrs. Carl Barker.

Before returning to their homes, the mothers held a business meeting and organized a football mothers club with the following officers: Mrs. Harvey Hodge, vice president; Mrs. Earl Pollard, secretary; Mrs. Forrest Moulton.

OPPOSER — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) says he'll try to get the Senate to oppose ratification of the treaty granting West Germany her sovereignty until France and Germany give the documents their final approval. A member of the Foreign Relations Committee, Mansfield says the U. S. shouldn't jump the gun on the final settlement.

PONTIAC MINISTER MACMURRAY SPEAKER

Rev. Clifford C. Brown, minister of the First Methodist church, Pontiac, was the speaker at the chapel services held Monday at Annie Merner chapel at MacMurray College.

The choir, under the direction of Henry Busche, sang "Schafe Kommen" by Bach. Soloists accompanying the choir were two flutists. The service was conducted by the college chaplain, Rev. McKendree M. Blair.

MENTIONED — Richard J. Cushing, Catholic archbishop of Boston, Mass., may become a cardinal, according to Vatican City sources. It is reported Pope Pius XII is considering the creation of one American and two Italian cardinals to restore the College of Cardinals to the full strength of 70.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at Long's Pharmacy.

Madness In The Spring

XXXII

A WEEK later, Philip Kirby, the well-known figure of radio, suffering from shock and amnesia, had regained his memory, after two weeks for which he could not account. He had turned up in Dead Man's Gulch and his first action had been to provide for life for the widow of the dead actor.

There were news pictures of Mrs. Perkins reading a telegram from Kirby; interviews with Kirby's public relations man, telling about his vast, unknown charities; accounts of Kirby's successful career and his immense popularity; an editorial on the genuine humility of the man which had led him to acknowledge his mistake and rectify it as far as possible.

Daggett viewed the mounting pile of clippings with awe. "And now we strike while the iron is hot. We announce the restoration of Dead Man's Gulch and give the date of the Grand Opening." He turned to Greg who, with Hannah, had been looking over the news stories. "It's high time your stepfather came into the picture, Greg."

"Yeah," Greg sat brooding, lighting cigarettes and stamping them out unsmoked. Everything was well as long as Crain kept out of the picture. But the moment he came into it, Greg had to see himself through his stepfather's eyes as the guy who couldn't stick to his job, who went sky-larking Around the Country, who didn't measure up.

He went out of the room without a word. From the window Daggett saw him take the road that led around the bluff.

"It won't work, Uncle Wade," Hannah said at length. "Greg is afraid of his stepfather."

The old man shook his head. "He's afraid of himself. He's afraid to take a chance on himself and Crain symbolizes all the things he fears."

"I guess," Hannah said, "we're all running away. Greg because he is afraid to be himself; Rupert because he gets driven on; Mr. Kirby because he doesn't want to face his punishment; me—because I'm afraid to be alone, afraid not to be loved."

"You've left someone out," he reminded her. "You'd better add: Wade Daggett, who is afraid to die."

Hannah lifted her head to find his bright eyes smiling at her. "It's terrible to love anyone the way I do Greg," she said simply. "If he cut himself I think I would bleed." She pushed back the lock of fair hair that had fallen over her face. "What should I do?" she demanded fiercely. "How can I make him know that I'm around and I'm a woman and—I'm nice?"

"Well, now, I have one or two ideas."

"MY darling boy," Milcent Crain said over the telephone, "of course you are to come to dinner. You never need ask. Where I am is always your home." After a pause she said hesitantly, "Horace is very—fond of you."

Horace was gracious but wary and inclined to be heavily humorous about Greg Scampering Around the Country. The chance to speak with Greg alone came after dinner.

"I take it," Crain said, "that you have given up the cross-country trip with this man Daggett. Find you didn't like it any better than the other job?"

"Not at all. It's going full steam ahead. I just came East on a little business."

"Tired of this trip of yours?" Crain asked.

"I've been having the time of my life," Greg replied and realized that this was an evasion, not a complete answer.

Perhaps the trip east had been

Tigers Edge Rockets 53-49; Crimson's Win Opener 57-45

Ramsey Leads I.S.D. Cagers To 3rd Win Before Large Turnout

The I. S. D. Tigers took an early lead and fought off a Rocket rally in the closing minutes to defeat the visiting Rockets 53-49 last night.

Coach Spink's five jumped off to a 12-6 lead in the first quarter as both sides started off rather cold. The Rockets picked up a little in the second period but the Tigers maintained a seven point lead at halftime. The I. S. D. five played without the services of Mehring, but his replacement another freshman, Schultz, was a standout under the basket throughout the contest and especially in this second period.

The Tigers held on to the lead in the third period, but in the final quarter the Rockets caught fire and began to hit from out as Shanahan and Dee got most of their points in this final spurt.

However, four buckets by Jack Ramsey and a game I. S. D. five was too much for the Rockets and they couldn't catch the unbeaten hosts.

This was the third win of the season for the Tigers and the first conference game. The Rockets have a 1-1 record.

Ramsey won the preliminary 53-49. Jack Ramsey was the top scorer of the evening with 20 points, followed by Dee of Ramo with 14. Phelps of I. S. D. and Shanahan of Ramo had 12 each.

WHITE HALL GRADES BEAT ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE — (Special) — The White Hall grade school five defeated host Roodhouse 45-32 here last night.

Reveal had 15 points for the winners while Biggs added 12. Jim Knox paced the scoring for the losers with 12 while Hopkins had 10.

Frank Smith, 26-year old relief pitcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, appeared in 50 games during 1954.

John Chapman Wins Century Club Award

Coach John D. Chapman of Jacksonville, Ill., High School has been named an award winner and member of Bike Web Century Club for his record of 110 victories in basketball.

The honorary organization is open to any college or high school coach whose athletic teams have won 100 or more contests in any sport.

William Matthei, coach at Bayview High School, Milwaukee, received the first award. He qualified by coaching cross country teams that had won more than a total of 100 meets.

Matthei originally suggested the idea of the Century Club in a letter to Sports Trail, a monthly newsletter edited by Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, and published by the Bike Web Co.

It was Matthei's hope that perhaps some unknown coach who had done an outstanding job in school sports might get a justly deserved break from this type of recognition.

The Century Club Award, a framed certificate, is presented to any qualifying coach whose record is submitted to Sports Trail in care of Bike Web Co., 309 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 6, Ill.

Big Ten Places Seven On All-Midwestern Team Selected By AP

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Led by unbeaten champion Ohio State, the Big Ten seized seven berths on the 1954 All-Midwestern football team named Tuesday by The Associated Press.

Eight schools in all were honored, but only undefeated Oklahoma of the Big Seven and independent Notre Dame who each matched Ohio State's two positions, made the grade from beyond the Big Ten.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Purdue, Iowa and Michigan each gained one berth to round out the mythical team screened from a territory extending west from Ohio to the Missouri Valley.

The powerful All-Midwestern backfield has Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback; Ohio State's Howie (Hopalong) Cassidy and Minnesota's Bob McNamara at the halfbacks; and Wisconsin's crumpler, Alan (The Horse) Ameche at fullback.

Cassidy, who twice engineered game-turning plays against Wisconsin and Michigan, is the only junior in this prize backfield.

Ameche, who holds the NCAA career rushing record, and McNamara, who made them forget Paul Giel at Minnesota this fall, already have ended collegiate play.

Guglielmi, called by some the greatest in a great succession of Notre Dame quarterbacks, ends at Southern Methodist on Saturday.

Ohio State and Notre Dame each won a tackle post in the 215-pound average all-star line, 231-pound Dick Hilsinki of the Bucks and 220-pound Irish star, Frank Varrichione, getting the call.

Oklahoma's two positions came in the line, giving the Big Seven all its representation in 209-pound center Kurt Burris and 204-pound end Max Boydston.

Boydston and the other end, Michigan's Ron Kramer, only sophomore selected, barely edged Ohio State's Dean Dugger for distinction as the Midwest's top flankers.

Ameche and guard Calvin Jones of Iowa were the only holdovers from the 1953 All-Midwestern team, while Guglielmi and the other 1954 guard, Purdue's Tom Bettis, advanced from second-team ranking last year.

Notre Dame's Dan Shannon and Michigan's Art Walker, at end and tackle respectively, also just missed top team recognition. The second team backfield has plenty of talent with Len Dawson, Purdue's brilliant sophomore passer at quarterback; Eddie Vincent of Iowa and Frank Bernard of Colorado at halfbacks; and Hubie Bobo, Ohio State's dandy sophomore at fullback.

Center Burris is regarded by Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson as one of the finest linemen he ever coached, boasting great speed and savvy. Boydston, like Kramer, is an end with brawn, speed and special punting talent. Both averaged over 40 yards per kick. Kramer is regarded the greatest Michigan end since the playing days of present Wolverine Coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Varrichione has averaged almost 45 minutes in the Notre Dame line this season and turned in his best game against Iowa, a team that last season so extended the Irish that the "feigned injury" by Varrichione became the incident of the season.

Hilsinki, an Ohio State medical honor student, was a bulwark of the line Buckeye line. Jones, despite a broken hand which harassed him all season, has been ranked "another Duke Slater" by Hawkeye sources. Bettis was a great performer for a Purdue team which upset Notre Dame, 27-14, and especially shone as a blocker.

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1954 All-Midwestern football squad named Tuesday by The Associated Press:

First Team
End—Max Boydston, Oklahoma
Tackle—Frank Varrichione, Notre Dame

Guard—Cal Jones, Iowa
Center—Kurt Burris, Oklahoma
Guard—Tom Bettis, Purdue
Tackle—Dick Hilsinki, Ohio State

End—Ron Kramer, Michigan
Back—Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame
Back—Howie Cassidy, Ohio State

Back—Bob McNamara, Minnesota
Back—Alan Ameche, Wisconsin
SECOND TEAM
Ends—Dean Dugger, Ohio State, and Dan Shannon, Notre Dame

Tackles—Art Walker, Michigan, and Francis Machinsky, Ohio State

Blueboys Tangle With Carthage Tonight

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Em Lindbeck's talk at the Crimson's football banquet Monday night put the finger on something that makes us stop and think. Instead of telling about his experiences since becoming the University of Illinois quarterback, Lindbeck told a little story of why he stayed around the school long enough to become a regular.

After Em was at the University a few weeks he became somewhat discouraged and a little homesick so he went home. His father came to the rescue and after reciting a little poem, in which he pointed out that everything in life wasn't always rosy but if you stayed with it and stuck it out things would always look better. Em went back to school and on to become a star on the Illini football team.

The quarterback's message to the Jacksonville High School football team was centered around this little incident. He recited this same poem and we feel it will be remembered for a long long time. We just wonder how many good, or even great, athletes have started out at college or in professional ball and given up after a short time because everything didn't go just so. It's sure something for all of us to think about.

Lindbeck, who was introduced by Charles Bellatti of the University's publicity office, also showed the film of the Illinois-Michigan game. He spent several minutes answering various questions put forth by the guests in an informal discussion period. At the beginning of the program, coach Bob Kraushaar introduced the members of this year's Crimson's squad and then discussed the season's record. This was the second annual football banquet sponsored by the parents.

The Illinois College Blueboys get rolling tonight when they play host to Carthage college at the hilltop gym. This will be the first game of the season for both schools although the Blueboys played the coaches Monday night in a pre-season battle.

The Carthage Redmen come to Jacksonville for their season's opener. Coach Art Keller's five split even with the Miller coached quintet last season, each winning at home. The Blueboys won 74-56 on the local floor but lost 74-61 at Carthage.

Coach Al Miller is undecided as to who will form the starting five. He will hold eight players back for the game with the other 13 boys taking part in the preliminary contest getting under way at 6:15.

The eight men, from which coach Miller will draw his starting five, are Ed Harrell, Dick Beasley, Dick Barnes, Roger Curfman, Bill Merris, Bill Kaufmann, Don Hazelrigg and Bob Stansfield. Harrell and Stansfield came through with fine performances in Monday's "exhibition" game.

The "B" game will start about 6:15 with the main battle getting under way around 8:00.

base woes for years, has long had his eye on Yost, a 260 hitter.

To get Yost, the White Sox presumably, would have to surrender Minoso, outfielder hit 329 last season.

The youth-minded White Sox presumably would find it attractive to work with Umphlett, 23, and McDermott, 26. Sievers is 28. So is Groth. Minoso and Kell are 31.

The reported Senator-White Sox swap would send outfielders Roy Sievers and Tommy Umphlett and pitcher Maury McDermott to Chicago along with Yost and bring outfielder Johnny Groth and third baseman George Kell here with Minoso.

In Houston, Lane denied the story and said he never had discussed any of the seven mentioned with Washington.

"They might as well trade Lane too if we're going to get rid of Minoso," said Lane. "I have talked with Dreesen but not about those players, strictly a minor proposition."

Dreesen, who likes plenty of speed on his club, is known to be an admirer of Minoso and Groth, both excellent base runners. While Kell is not the fastest man in the league, he is an excellent third baseman and the Senators would need a replacement for Yost.

Yost, a 10-year veteran at 28, is the key man in the deal. Lane, who has been plagued with third

Report White Sox, Nats Cooking Up 7 Player Deal

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators were reported Tuesday to be cooking up a seven-man trade that would send third baseman Eddie Yost to the Chicago White Sox and bring outfielder Minnie Minoso to Washington.

Calvin Griffith, the Senators' executive vice president, would neither confirm nor deny the report but told questioners "it sounds like a pretty good deal to me."

Washington's new manager, Chuck Dreesen, was getting in some trade talk with Frank Lane of the White Sox at the annual convention of the minor leagues in Houston.

The reported Senator-White Sox swap would send outfielders Roy Sievers and Tommy Umphlett and pitcher Maury McDermott to Chicago along with Yost and bring outfielder Johnny Groth and third baseman George Kell here with Minoso.

Woodward, Johnson Spark Jacks To First Win Over Feitschans

The Jacksonville Crimson's journeyed to Springfield last night and defeated the host Feitschans Flyers 57-45 in the opening game for the Jacks.

It was the long shots of Jim Woodward and the rebounding and shooting of Howard Johnson that gave the Crimson's their first win of the season. Woodward hit for 22 points to pace the scoring for the evening followed closely by Johnson who hit for 21.

It was a close battle all the way up until the final period when the Crimson's held the hosts to eight free throws while scoring 14 points themselves.

The Jacks held a slim 16-14 lead at the end of the first period and a 27-21 halftime advantage. It was Woodward's scoring in the first period and Johnson's shooting in the second that kept the Crimson's in the contest.

The score remained about even in the third period as the Crimson's held a six point advantage at the end of this frame.

Homeier paced the scoring for the losers with 15 points.

The Jacks lost the services of center Billy Jordan midway through the fourth period.

The Flyers won the preliminary

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds firmed Tuesday while the corporate bond market fluctuated narrowly in active trading.

Dealers of Treasury securities said the late selloff in the stock market helped lift government bond prices which have been sagging for nearly two weeks. Gains, however, were small as most issues had to erase early losses.

"Big Board" volume declined to $5,270,000 par value from $6,215,000 Monday, but corporate prices were fairly steady. Railroads and industrials selling at a discount continued to attract more buyers than sellers. Utilities were calm.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—The live hog market was moderately active but uneven Tuesday. Prices were steady to 25 cents higher on butchers, with the most advance on weights over 220. About a load of choice mostly No. 1 grade butchers weighed $19.00 to $19.35, the top price.

Sows generally were steady to strong. A few light weights brought a top of $16.50.

Slaughter steers were uneven but mainly steady with Monday in the cattle division. The best prices were for three loads of average to high prime steers at $30.00 to $31.00. Heifers were mostly steady and cows steady to 75 cents lower. Bulls and vealers held steady.

Slaughter lambs were steady to 50 cents or more lower in slow trading. Sheep held steady. A small package of choice to prime fed woolled lambs brought a top of $20.50. Cull to good sheep sold at $5.00 to $5.50.

Salable receipts included 16,900 hogs, 8,500 cattle, 500 calves and 3,500 sheep.

FLOUR BUYING GIVES STRENGTH TO WHEAT. FIRMS OTHER FUTURES

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Reports of heavy flour sales boosted wheat futures prices on the Board of Trade Tuesday. The strength in wheat implied firmness to other grains but the best prices were not maintained. Soybeans dropped as much as three cents a bushel in late trading.

Pressure in soybeans was due partly to selling by local traders who had been bullish earlier. Easing of oil and meal futures prices caused some selling. Traders also believe that farmers who are holding their soybeans will have to market them sooner or later, and this selling will depress the market.

Wheat closed 1 to 1 1/2 cent higher, corn 1/4 to 3/4 up, oats 1/4 higher to 3/4 lower, rye 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, soybeans down 1 1/4 to 3 cents, and lard 5 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Traders here were expecting a boom in flour sales, and apparently it came. Flour business was estimated at around two million 100-pound sacks and mill representatives said the purchases would be more than that before it was cleaned up. The flour business was reported to be the biggest for a single day since mid-July.

Cold weather and heavy snow is predicted for portions of the grain belt. However, rain is needed in the Southwestern winter wheat belt and little has arrived.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran into intense selling just before the close Tuesday and prices were hammered back abruptly.

This is the fourth time the stock market has tripped into a reaction since the explosive bull market boom started after the national elections four weeks ago. Tuesday's decline was sudden and substantial but there was no acute weakness uncovered.

Because of the sustained rise in recent weeks, brokers have anticipated a profit taking surge of selling.

Losses went to nearly $3 while gains extended up to around $2 with some outside that range either way.

Railroads lagged from the start, and the final selling seemed concentrated in that group. Also lower were steels, oils, coppers, chemicals, rubbers, radio-televisions, electrical equipments, building materials, distillers and utilities.

Aircrafts were ahead, and motors held higher with the exception of General Motors which lost 1 1/4. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 90 cents at $147.20. Monday it gained 60 cents and stood at a level equal to Oct. 10, 1929, less than $10 under the all-time high of $157.70 established Sept. 3, 1929.

The industrial component of the average fell 80 cents, rails were off $1.50, and utilities declined 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 3,440,000 shares. That compares with 3,300,000 shares traded Monday.

The American Stock Exchange fell away on volume of 900,000 shares as compared with 980,000 shares traded Monday.

Oscar Mueller, 64, Bluffs Veteran Of World War I Dies

BLUFFS—Word of the death of Oscar Mueller, 64, born and raised at Bluffs, was received Monday night by relatives. Mr. Mueller was a World War One veteran and came back to Bluffs after the great war. He later moved to Colorado and then to El Cajon, Calif., his present home. He has suffered an extended illness for years and died Monday night in a Veterans hospital at San Fernando, Calif.

He was born June 14, 1889 on a farm northeast of Bluffs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mueller. He married Augusta Bosse of Bluffs who survives with two children, Mrs. Doris Piler and Wilmer Mueller, both of El Cajon. Also surviving are three brothers and three sisters. They are John, and Fred of Bluffs; Louis of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mrs. Clarence Seeman and Mrs. Anna Schewe, of Bluffs and Mrs. Lena Hallows of Harvey.

Funeral services and burial will take place at El Cajon.

England Pays Tribute To 'Grand Old Man' On 80th Birthday

added "However, perhaps with suitable assistance, I shall get over this reaction and come around after a bit."

Churchill, looking remarkably fit for his age, clearly enjoyed the festivities beginning in the morning with the opening of Parliament.

In that regal setting he heard the great-granddaughter of Victoria—the Queen under whom he started his parliamentary career—outline his government's program for the next 12 months in a speech from the throne.

Young Queen Elizabeth, reading the speech he had written for her, voiced Churchill's thoughts in calling for strengthening British ties with the United States as a guarantee of world survival and expressing hope of eventually reaching an understanding with Soviet Russia.

Special Services Work By Garrison Told To AAEC

The A A E C met recently at the high school and planned a Christmas program for the December meeting. The committee to serve for the party included Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. Van Heck, Miss Mary Corlett, Mrs. Clarence Willner and Mrs. George Fulton.

The group asked Ivan Garrison, director of the Department of Special Services, to give an overall view of the department and his work. Mr. Garrison listed the services now included in the department and described how his work is related to each of the units.

The department includes special health service, such as physical examination and all of the screening programs. Two school nurses are employed by the district to remedial reading two teachers are employed half-time. Four special correctionists work in the ten district schools and in North Jacksonville and at the Illinois Sight Saving and Braille school. Two visiting counselors help the children with problems of adjustment.

A class is provided for the physical handicapped children and teachers are provided for homebound and hospitalized pupils. Physical therapy is made possible by a cooperative agreement between the schools and the Easter Seal association.

Seven classes are provided for the educable mentally handicapped child. Three psychologists cover 20 counties working out of the department office. Mr. Garrison explained that his job was to coordinate the services, arrange the schedules of the specialists, help in securing materials and follow each child in the department through his schooling program. In some cases he provided administration, in others supervision and administration.

Parent education is part of the program of special education. Mr. Garrison explained the purpose of parent interviews and conferences and how these were a part of the parent-education program.

The next meeting of the A A E C will be Dec. 7 at the Lincoln school in the cafeteria where a potluck supper will be served for parents and their children and the Christmas program enjoyed. All families with children in the special services offered in the school system and their children are cordially invited.

Ohio Officers Hunt Escaped 'Lifer' Without Hope

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pat McDermott, the 56-year-old "lifer" without hope," has extended his spectacularly won freedom past the 72-hour mark and there still is no clue where the escaped murderer is hiding.

Repercussions continued in the wake of the Sunday break from Ohio Penitentiary by the slayer of the crusading publisher of the old Canton Daily News, Don R. Mellett. But McDermott, who once conquered tuberculosis, seemed well on his way toward making a success of his second bid for freedom in his 27 years of imprisonment.

Chief of the repercussions was the disclosure by Franklin County Rep. Samuel A. Devine that he will ask an inquiry into the "honor system" used at Ohio Penitentiary. Warden Ralph W. Alvis pointed out, however, McDermott was not an honor prisoner but was a nurse in an honor dormitory at the big, grey penitentiary which has been his home since 1927. McDermott's only privilege, said Alvis, was that he was permitted to wear civilian clothing.

NEW BERLIN WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS DEC. 3

Mrs. George Schneider will entertain the New Berlin Woman's club at 2:30 p.m. Friday. The program will be provided by the literature department, Mrs. M. B. Summers, chairman. Hostesses for the social hour are Miss Francis Hartman, Miss Grace Poutch, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. Edna Warner, Mrs. William Bird, Mrs. James Huffaker.

Voting Will Start Late In Afternoon

Bennett urged that McCarthy— who spent only a half hour in the chamber, during the late afternoon—take the floor and make an "affirmative case" for himself on the censure question. He said that so far the McCarthy camp seemed to be relying largely on putting questions to senators favoring censure.

Lehman, winding up the debate, declared the Senate itself—not McCarthy—is on trial "at the bar of public opinion in our own country and of world opinion, to."

Fulbright took after McCarthy in much the same vein.

Fulbright, in reading the letters from McCarthy supporters, said they were only a few of thousands he had received, some of them "so vile" they could not be read in public.

One anonymous letter from Middle Village, L. I., N. Y., told Fulbright:

"I would spit on you if I could but you would not be worthy of my saliva."

Fulbright also read a large size leaflet signed by "the Christian Nationalist Crusade" saying 98 per cent of the Roman Catholic leadership supports McCarthy, and accusing "anti-Catholic bigots" of whipping up hatred against him.

This sort of thing, Fulbright said, is evidence of "a great sickness among our people," and declared McCarthy must shoulder a great responsibility for it.

Sen. Mundt said that what he called the "arrogance" of executive agencies would swell if the Senate censured McCarthy on the count charging that he unduly abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when Zwicker was a committee witness before him.

"A great sense of injustice" would prevail, Mundt said, even while he conceded that McCarthy had been somewhat "overzealous" in questioning Zwicker.

On another major count—that McCarthy showed contempt of the Senate and its institutions by failing to testify in a 1951-52 probe of his financial affairs—Mundt said McCarthy was never subpoenaed to testify.

The subcommittee didn't use its powers, he said, and thus no one knows whether McCarthy would have defied a subpoena.

This last full day of general debate started off on an angry note with Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), a staunch McCarthy backer, in a blistering exchange with Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.). It was Flanders, Fulbright and Sen. Morse (Ind-Rep.) who originated the move to censure McCarthy.

The subject of an exchange was a broadcast Flanders made over the government's "Voice of America" Radio Network to the Soviet Union. Jenner touched off the fireworks by demanding to know why the 74-year-old Flanders referred to the people of the Soviet Union in the broadcast as "my friends, my Soviet brothers."

Flanders retorted: "The senator from Indiana is beside himself."

"I am not beside myself," Jenner said, "but I want to know what goes on in the United States Senate."

"The senator has taken leave of his intelligence," Flanders declared.

They went at it hot and heavy with Jenner ignoring repeated raps of the gavel and reminders from Sen. Cotton (R-NH), presiding, that Flanders had the floor.

Finally Flanders said that anybody who reads his Voice speech, which he put into the record, would know he aimed it at the people of the Communist world over the heads of their rulers.

THIRD SET OF TWINS IN FOUR YEARS

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Luther Lee, 32, of Larusell, Mo., gave birth to her third set of twins in four years at a Carthage hospital Monday night.

The latest additions to the Lee family—Nos. 10 and 11—are sons Dickie Tim and Rickey Kim.

The father, 39, is employed in a bed springs factory here.

The Lee children, seven boys and four girls, range in age from one day to 14 years.

VOTE WELL ADVERTISED

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—The Federation of Malaya will hold its first elections for the Federal Legislative Council next June and is using everything from armored cars to airplanes to make sure that everyone eligible is registered.

In far-flung sections where there are no roads, election information officers are walking from village to village. They carry leaflets, posters and pamphlets—and whenever they run out, parcels of supplies are dropped by parachute on prearranged targets.

Airplanes also scatter tens of thousands of leaflets in the more densely populated areas.

Armored vans, automobiles and motorcycles visit villages and settlements.

Pure silicon is worth about $380 a pound—almost as much as gold.

Health Department Director Endorses Fluorides In Water

Commendation of Jacksonville Parent-Teacher Association and dentists for their efforts in informing the people regarding the benefits of fluorides added to the public water supply was expressed Tuesday by Dr. James W. Chapman, director of the Morgan County Health Department.

Local dentists pointed out that tooth decay, the most prevalent disease among Jacksonville residents, can be reduced by two-thirds through this measure; the spokesman also emphasized the importance of regular visits to the dentist. Continuous dental care will still be required for dental decay that will occur despite the benefits derived from the fluoridation of the drinking water.

West Side Club Holiday Dinner Party Dec. 10th

Ten attended the regular meeting Friday of the West Side Woman's club at the home of Mrs. Dora Wright. A new member, Mrs. Olivia Miller, was welcomed into the club.

The Christmas party and gift exchange will be at 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 10, at the home of Mrs. Lillian Holt, 449 South Clay avenue. The short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Cornelia Carter. Officers for the new year were elected: president, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell; vice president, Mrs. Lucinda Allen; secretary, Miss Louisa Carter; assistant secretary, Mrs. Cornelia Carter; treasurer, Mrs. Dora Wright.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the end of the meeting and the door prize was won by Mrs. Gertrude Dugan.

T.M. Walsh Rites Held At Duluth

Funeral services for Thomas M. Walsh, Jr., formerly of this city, were held Monday morning at Holy Rosary Cathedral in Duluth, Minn., and burial was made in that city.

Mr. Walsh, son of Mrs. T. M. Walsh, 710 West Douglas avenue, died last Friday morning after an extended illness.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name society, and David Wisted Post, American Legion. Mr. Walsh was a veteran of World War I.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Colvin, 913 South Main street, became the parents of a son at 2:27 a.m. Tuesday at Our Saviour's hospital, weight eight pounds and four ounces.

At Our Saviour's hospital Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tucker of Roadhouse became the parents of a daughter born at 2:38 p.m. Monday and weighing six pounds and 12 ounces. She has been named Mary Christine.

Good Drivers Ticketed; For Movies, That Is!

Safety and courtesy pay more ways than one when you are driving a car or truck. A number of Jacksonville drivers are more aware of that fact than ever, because they have been rewarded by the police department with tickets to the Illinois theater.

Looking for good drivers as well as bad drivers, members of the police department have been issuing citations in preparation for Safe Driving Day on Dec. 15, when traffic officials throughout the United States are hopeful that 24 hours will pass without a single accident anywhere.

On Nov. 22 two theater tickets for courtesy to pedestrians on the public square were given to Mrs. P. D. Trotter by Patrolmen Runkel and Smith.

On the following day Gene Pearson, 643 North Sandy street, was given two theater tickets for courtesy to pedestrians by Patrolman Hank Campbell.

Foreman Stiltz, 802 East College avenue, was presented with theater tickets Nov. 27 by Patrolman Smith, also for courtesy to pedestrians.

Dorothy Beck of Winchester received tickets from Lieut. Stout on Nov. 27 for showing concern for pedestrians. On the same day Ralph Bessell, administrator of Passavant Area hospital, was observed in an act of courtesy to pedestrians by Officer Campbell and presented with theater tickets.

Harry E. Lewis, 925 South East street, was given theater tickets by Patrolmen Jarvis and Brune on Nov. 29, after they observed his excellent driving. Lewis made complete stops, hand signals, and kept in the proper lane of traffic over a route followed by the officers.

Chief Ike Flynn said while Jacksonville is preparing for S-D Day on Dec. 15, a campaign is being carried on against parking cars on the wrong side of streets in residential sections.

"There may not be any cars close by when a car is parked on the left hand side of the street," Chief Flynn said, "but something may be coming when the car that has been parked attempts to leave the curb. Parking on the left side of streets where there is two-way traffic is dangerous and against the law," he said.

Twenty-six warning tickets were issued Monday to drivers improperly parked in residential districts.

Conflicting Stories Of Burglary Related By Two Witnesses

A Morgan county young man on trial for burglary told a jury Tuesday morning that he is innocent—that he was not present at the Kinney shoe store last summer when a safe was stolen and hauled away.

Earlier in the day a Jacksonville man now serving time in the state penitentiary for burglary testified that the defendant now on trial was with him when the burglary was committed.

Loren Day, the defendant, testified that he was at home by 9:30 o'clock on the night of the burglary at the shoe store. He said he attended a sale at Woodson, came to Jacksonville, and went on home. He said he had no part in the shoe store burglary.

Delmar Ward, who was brought back to this city from Menard prison to testify for the prosecution, told of the burglary and claimed that Day was with him.

Day testifying on his own behalf, told the jury that he and Ward had an argument last May over some chickens, and that Ward "threatened to get even with him."

The prosecution finished its case Tuesday morning and the defense began the introduction of testimony. State's Attorney Albert Hall and Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson are prosecuting the case. Defense attorneys are Robert Bradley and T. C. Rammekamp.

Judge Whitte charged the jury after it heard conflicting arguments by the prosecution and defense, and ordered the return of a sealed verdict to be opened in court at 9 a.m. today.

Former Greene Couple To Mark 50th Anniversary

A former Greene county couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cook whose present address is Box 873, West Chicago, Ill., will observe their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, Dec. 7.

They were married in 1904. Mrs. Cook is the former Margaret Wells of Greenville, Ill. They have four children: Fred Cook of West Chicago; Mrs. Frank Clark of Rawlins, Wyo.; Mrs. Cecil Fay of White Hall and Mrs. Charles Merriam of Carlinville. There are 16 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Cook is 74 years of age and his wife is 65. They will have open house at their home in West Chicago.

New Berlin Rites For Sarah Long

NEW BERLIN — Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Klotz Long were held Sunday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran church with Rev. N. P. Uhlig officiating.

The organist was Mrs. Robert Cope.

Casketbearers were Roland, Robert and Raymond Long, Carl, Jr., Richard and Melvin Horn.

Burial was in Woodwrest cemetery at Island Grove.

Hilltoppers Revive Gas Light Melodrama

The curtain is about to rise on one of the most anxiously awaited dramatic productions to be seen in this area.

"Nick of the Woods, or Telle the Renegade's Daughter," will be presented by The Illinois College Hilltop Players on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, December 2 and 3, at 8:30 p.m. The old melodrama will be produced in Baxter Hall on the Mount avenue side of the college campus, in the authentic old-time style.

"Nick of the Woods" is a genuine piece of American folklore written and originally performed in the famous Bowers theatre in New York over 100 years ago. The Hilltop Players will be among the first to bring it back to life. The version to be used has been edited by Tom Taggart, a well-known playwright. The antique wordiness has been removed, leaving a play with fast-moving scenes and ludicrous situations.

Original-Type Settings
Miss Octavia K. Frees, director, will produce the play with the original type of settings including period costumes, painted scenery, etc. Instead of seating the audience in rows of chairs, tables will be supplied to duplicate the old-time methods of enjoying the drama. It is suggested that those planning to attend might make up parties of four. Refreshments will be on sale during the performance. As in the old-time custom, the audience is expected to hurl out advice to the performers, hiss the villain, sigh with the heroine, and generally have a real good time.

Tickets are now available at the college, and at Lane's Book Store and Long's Pharmacy in Jacksonville. Those adults appearing at the door of Baxter Hall in costumes of the Civil War period will be admitted free.

The play has among its characters such people as Edith Forrester, described as "one of Earth's most finished daughters," Roland Forrester, "one of nature's noblemen," and Richard Braxley, "a name black with crime and treachery." Roland and Edith are cousins who, deprived of their inheritance through the skullduggery of Braxley, set out in the Kentucky wilderness to seek their fortunes and are pursued there by the wicked Braxley. Braxley is intent to work his will with the fair Edith and burn the noble Roland at the stake. Time and again he has them in his clutches; time and time again they escape, at each attempt furnishing a scene of hilarious excitement because of the absurdity of the situation.

"Man With Six Faces"
The large cast is headed by Tom Olson, who portrays six characters: Reginald Ashburn, Bloody Nathan Nick of the Woods, The Jibbenomay, Spirit of the Waters, and the Avenger. Wilma Dobbs will play the heroine, George Reilly, the noble hero; Ted Hoskins, the wicked villain; Francis Zollner, Telle the Indian maiden who gives her life for love. Supporting the major characters are Zoe Kilmer, Abel Deer, Doris Schmeidel, Ralph Stock, Kent Hoskins, Colonel Bruce, Kent Grayson, Wionona, Sue Boswell as Little Tom, Doris Jensen as Mrs. Bruce, Gary Gengal, Bill Graves, Jack Bostick, Annie Walker, Sue Boswell, Janet Brown, Carol Shaffner, and Sharon Kelley will play Indians and Pioneers.

Unusual specialty acts will be provided by Harriet Loneragan, Carol Shaffner, Bill Malotke, Karen Myers and others.

The committees or "crews" assisting in the production are: Business and publicity: Bud Halter, Lois Pontius, Drucilla Dugan, M. Reusche, and Fran Kluz; chairman; properties, Marilyn Todd, Miriam Adams, and Doris Jensen; costumes and make-up: Jack Bostick, Janice Brown and Sharon Kelley; chairman; music: Carol Shaffner, Bill Malotke, and Jean Lawless; chairman; scenery is being handled by the dramatic production class; lighting, William Wood.

Some of the outstanding reports made at the first general report

Train Demolishes Car Stalled On Crossing

"The train's going to get my car," an excited man shouted as he burst into the police station at 1:15 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Almost at the same moment the train did get the car—at the Sandy street crossing of the Wabash railroad. The fast-moving Diesel locomotive picked up the 1951 Mercury and carried it to the North East street crossing, several blocks away, grinding and crushing it en route.

William Hemphill, 34, of 902 North Clay avenue, owner of the car, and members of the police department went to North East street and viewed the wreckage. Only one wheel was left on the car. It was mashed into a tangle of metal.

Hemphill had been having trouble with the car on West Lafayette avenue. The motor had stopped, and a friend gave him a push. But when he got to the Sandy street crossing the motor coughed a time or two and died again. He believes it was out of gas.

Jumping out on the track, the owner attempted to shove the stalled car from the rails. It wouldn't budge sufficiently to clear the track. He then hurried to the city hall for help.

The eastbound train consisting of 103 cars was in charge of Engineer C. C. Hill and Conductor J. A. Grow, both of Decatur.

Capt. Spreen and all members of the night police force went to the railroad after receiving the call.
